Written at my Mother's Grave.

BY GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

The trembling dew-drops fall
Upon the shutting flowers, like souls at rest,
The stars shine gloriously: and all
Save me are blest.

Mother, I love thy grave!
The violet: with its blossoms blue and mild,
Wave o'er thy head: when will it wave
About thy child?

'Tis a sweet flower, yet must
Its bright leaves to the morning tempest bow;
Dear mother, 'tis thine emblem; dust
Is on thy brow.

And I could love to die;
To leave untasted life's dark bitter streams,
By thee, as erst in childhood lie,
And share thy dreams.

And I must linger here,
To stain the plumage of thy sinless years,
And mourn the hopes to childhood dear,
With bitter tears.

Aye, must linger here,
A lonely branch upon a withered tree,
Whose lost frail leaf, untimely sere,
Went down with thee.

Oft from life's withered bower,
In still communion with the past I turn,
And muse on thee, the only flower
In memory's urn.

And when the evening pale,
Bows like a mourner, on the dim blue wave,
I stray to hear the night winds wail
Around thy grave.

Where is thy spirit flown?
Point above—thy look is imaged there!
I listen, and thy gentle tone
Is on the air.

Oh, come, while here I press
My brow upon thy grave; and in those mild
And thrilling tones of tenderness,
Bless, bless thy child.

Yes, bless your weeping child;
And o'er thine urn, religion's honest shrine,
Oh, give his spirit, undefiled,
To blend with thine.

A Nocturnal Comedy of Errors.

Some days since a young couple who had newly donned hymenial vestments, came from their home, a pleasant village in this State, to spend a portion of that supposed-to-be-delicious period known as the honeymoon, and placed themselves under the charge of the proprietor of the Spencer House. They then sallied forth to witness the beauties and peculiarities of the queen City, and do as brides are ever wont, a quantity of the little business embraced in the term "shopping." They were gone several hours and did not return to the hotel until near sundown, quite fatigued with their exertions. The bride, Mrs. R, then found she had forgotten some articles indispensible to her toilet and unwilling to disturb her husband, who she knew must be weary, slipped out while he was down stairs, and went up Fourth street to get the diminutive bundle. She was successful in her search for the store and the article, but on her way back mistook, from her ignorance of the city, Main street for Broadway, and the Madison for the Spencer House, which are situated nearly opposite each other.

Mrs. R, went into the hotel and thinking it looked rather different from the other asked one of the waiters she met in the hall, in rather low and indistinct tone, if that was the "Spencer," to which he failing to understand her, replied in the affirmative. She then ordered him to bring her the key to No. 18, which he did, and she entered it, and removed her bonnet, shawl, and other portions of her attire, and crept between the sheets of the bed to enjoy a nap after her long walk, never dreaming she was in the wrong house, for the reason that the appartment happened to have the same position, and be furnished very much like her room at the "Spencer."

Instead of taking a "little nap," she fell into a profound sleep, that continued hour after hour until 11 o'clock, at which time she was disturbed by a most unexpected incident.

The rightful occupant of No. 48, a merchant from a town in Indiana, who had been to the theatre and become a little intoxicated, went to the Madison, and wishing no one to see his condition, walked up to his room without a light, and fortunately or unfortunately, found the door unlocked. He entered quietly, and as a total darkness reigned there, he removed his garments and crept into the spacious double bed, not disturbing in the least the fair bride who lay near the wall.

How long she two reposed there side by side, with only a foot of space between them, all unconscious of the other's presence, is not exactly known, but probably about an hour, when a tremendous noise was heard in the appartment, from which female screams issued wildly, piercingly and ceaselessly.

The hotel was in an uproar; proprietors, clerks, waiters, porters and guests dressed and half dressed, were at the door of "forty-eight" in a few minutes, block ing up the entrance, and asking each other eagerly, "What is the matter?" "For God's sake tell us what is the trouble!"

The cause of the outcry may be imagined. The bride had awakened about midnight, and putting her hand over her husband it fell upon the Indianian's face, and the soft, warm touch aroused him at once. He did not understand it exactly, though he did not dislike it, and in a moment more Mrs. R., said:—"My dearest husband, where have you been all this while?"

"Husband!" echoed the merchant, beginning to see, like Lord Tinsel, that he had "made a small mistake here;" "I am nobody's husband. I reckon, my dear madam, you're in the wrong bed."

In the wrong bed—horror of horrors, thought the bride—what would her liege lord, what would the curious world say? And Mrs. R., screamed terribly, and sprang from her couch just as her companion did the same. He was fully as much alarmed as she, and entreated her to give him time and he would leave the apartment, although it was the one he had engaged—he'd make oath to that.

Scream, scream, scream was the only reply to this kindly proposition.

"My God, Madam, don't yell so! you'll wake the house. Be reasonable; I swear it's only a mistake. Have some thought of the consequences. I dont want to hurt you—I swear I don't. You'll get me shot and yourself—well I won't say what."

The screams increased, and the poor Indianian, expecting every moment to see a pistol thrust in his face by a jealous husband, turned pale as death, which he expected, and resigned himself to his fate.

Just at this juncture, the throng outside presented itself at the door, and beheld Mrs. R., magnificently, with a sheet wrapped over her form and head, and the Indianian in the middle of the room, enveloped in a coverlet, ejaculating, "My God, Madam, don't."

The junior proprietor, Dr. Cahill, saw there must be some mistake, and, requesting the others to retire, called the merchant out with him in another room, and there learned the whole story. The Doctor then sent one of the ladies of the hotel to Mrs. R. and the entire affair was explained, greatly to her relief—though she was overwhelmed with confusion at a circumstance which might have ruined her reputation for ever.

Under the escort of the Doctor, she was conveyed to the "Spencer," where the husband was found pacing the corridors, with frantic mien and half crazed with grief at the mysterious disappearance of his wife, whom he believed had been spirited away by a villian, or murderer for her jewels in this "infernal city," where, as he expressed it, "they would kill a man for a dollar any time."

☞ A Lover had been offered a kiss if he would prove his assertion that locomotives are accustomed to chew tobacco, as well as smoke out their pipes—

Giving his arms the proper gank,
To imitate an engine crank,
The motion forward first to show,
And then the backward motion too;
Eager to press the promised prize,
He puckered his lips and twinkled his eyes,
To smack her;
"Observe the sound
As the crank comes round."
He archly said:
"It's choo—choo—choo,
To go ahead,
And choo—choo chew
To backer."

☞ An English paper tells a story of a preacher, who observed, that it was a striking proof of wisdom and benevolence of Providence that death was placed at the end of life—thus giving time to make the necessary preparation for that event.—This calls to mind the profound remark of a philosopher who admired the arrangement of placing Sunday at the end of the week, instead of the middle, which would make a broken week of it.

☞ "Missa says you must be sartin pay da bill to-day," says a negro to a New Orleans shopkeeper. "Why, he isn't afraid I'm going to run away, is he?"—"Not 'zactly dat, but look ahea," said the darkey mysteriously, "he's gwine to run away herself, and, darfor, wants to make a big raise."

☞ A hard, close-fisted old lady, who had refused to give, after hearing a charity sermon, had her pocket picked as she was leaving the church. On making the discovery, she said, "If God could not find the way into my pocket, it seems that the Devil could!"

REMARKABLE AND MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—A lady in Litchfield, Conn., who is divorced from her husband, but lives in the same house for the sake of the children, recently had three children at a birth. She is sure the door of her room was kept locked at night, and cannot account for the accident.

Why is Heaven so Attractive.

Among the numerous reasons which may be given for Heaven's peculiar attractiveness to every christian heart, may be mentioned the following:—

1. Because the saved in Heaven, are exempt from all pains, and all trouble and affliction.

2. Because the innumerable objects there to be seen are vastly more beautiful than any of earth.

3. Because a resurrection body will be united to the soul of the believer, more glorious by far than the present one.

4. Because the intellect, with all its wondrous faculties, will be greatly strengthened, enlarged and perfected.

5. Because Heaven is a place of entire freedom from immorality and vice, from sin and temptation.

6. Because it is a place of never-tiring activity.

7. Because it is a place of quiet rest and sweet repose.

8. Because of its music, in which there is no discord, but the most enrapturing melody.

9. Because it is a region of love—pure, intense and seraphic love.

10. Because the Christian there, shall meet beloved friends that have gone before, and welcome those who follow after.

11. Because the saved will engage in the most pleasant and agreeable employments.

12. Because all mysteries will be cleared up, and every problem solved.

13. Because Heaven is a home a sacred home, where the social affections can be fully developed.

14. Because there will be a constant increase of knowledge, virtue, happiness and holiness.

15. Because we can there mingle with patriarchs, apostles, and the noble army of martyrs of every age.

16. Because the redeemed will enjoy the society of that order of beings, the angels, those elder brethren of ours, who are possessed of such warm sympathies and lofty attributes.

17. Because there is no night there, but all is brightness unspeakable.

18. Because it is a Sabbath of devotional exercises and holy worship.

19. Because God the Father is there.

20. Because God the Son is there.

21. Because God the Spirit is there.

22. Because the blessedness of the righteous in Heaven will be permanent, will last forever and ever.—Boston Recorder.

Think of the Poor.

Kind reader, the morning is cold, the wind blows sharp and keen, and while you may be comfortably housed and warmly clad, give a thought and perform an act of charity for the poor that surround you. They are God's children, and must be fed and clothed, for while it has pleased Him to crown you with plenty, and place you above the reach of want, 'tis surely no crime for you to give a little to your less fortunate neighbors.

It is true that we may not witness so much destitution this winter as we have done in previous ones, for those manufactories that suspended operations last fall, have most of them resumed, thus giving employment to thousands of hard-working mechanics, that last winter were the subjects of charity, and who filled to overflowing, our soup houses and other benevolent institutions; still we venture to say that within the sound of the State House bell, there are hundreds of families that to-day need a helping hand. Perform the part of the good Samaritan, and visit the children of poverty in their lowly dwelling-places, administer to their wants and necessities, for by these little actions you will not only prevent much suffering that would otherwise occur, but would be carrying out that golden rule—"Do unto others as you would have others do to you."

We say, "Remember the poor," for though to-day you may be reveling in all the luxuries that money and friends could possibly furnish, to-morrow's setting sun may find you a mendicant at the door of charity. Though to-day all may seem sunshine and happiness to you, to-morrow may bring its howling blast, and storm-clouds may well up in your path, and engulph you in their vortex.

Give a thought and care for the poor. Go to work and search them out in your own imediate neighborhood, and give them such relief as may be in your power, and you will fell much happier and better for having furthered the ends of charity, by the performance of a kind action towards your poorer neighbors. Commence your good deeds early, and wait not until exposure and want shall have laid low the manly forms of those whom the Father of All recognizes as His children, and loves them with a parent's love.—Phila. Commonwealth.

Deferred Articles.

HOW OUR CHILDREN ARE POISONED.—We notice in one of our exchanges an account of a recent occurrence which ought to set mothers on their guard against allowing their children to play with fancifully colored paper. The child was taken suddenly ill, vomiting violently; in the intervals of vomiting, it lay in deathly torpor. The mother said it was teething But a neighbor who could not see, in the process of cutting a tooth, cause for the child's sudden and violent sickness, inquired what the child had eaten The mother was indignant at this implied charge of carelessness or ignorance, But, finally, it appeared that the child had been allowed to play with a piece of paper, colored a brilliant green. The paper was instinctively put in the mouth, when a portion of the coloring matter was dissolved by the saliva and swallowed. The rich greens which do please the children on bits of paper brought from shops on dry goods, are preparations of copper and arsenic—poisonous. Children should never be allowed to take them. The writer of the article mentioned, states that two rooms in his father's house were washed with a green solution; and when these walls were swept, the sweeper always complained of sickness, and of a coppery taste in the mouth. Also, that a physician who used to sit much in a room hung with green paper, was always made sick by it, on removing to another room he recovered. But whenever he returned to this green room the symtoms returned. Poisonous colors are often used to give tint to candies and other notions offered for sale by the confectioners. Green is not the only color containing poison. Blue and yellow are liable to the same charge. It is said that in a dress-making establishment, in Paris, the young women employed in making some beautiful green ball dresses were taken suddenly ill. The physician thought that by wearing these few dresses in a ball-room, poison enough would be detached from the color to occasion most dangerous consequences to the company.

☞ The Cleveland Herald makes the following very just comments upon the rights of married woman:—"Talk about a man having a right to do what he will with his own! A husband's property is not his own. The wife is as much entitled to it as he is She, if not directly, at least indirectly, has been as influential in accumulating that property as the husband has, and certainly has had if in her power, had she so chosen, to have kept him a beggar all his life. If the words of cheer, when the horizon looks dark; if the words of caution, when speculation is rife; if the words of hope, when calamity comes; if the words of prudence, when prosperity smiles—could be measured by dollars and cents, every husband would lay the bulk of his fortune at the feet of his wife, as an act of naked justice, for her instrumentality in shaping his pecuniary destiny. It is downright cruelty to provide in profusion for a wife's wants during coverture, and—through thoughtlessness or recklessness—leave her at the husband's death in property. It is the height of meanness in a man who dies rich, to attempt to hamper his widow so that she shall not have an abundance, and have it, too, absolutely her own, to do with it what she sees fit. Married women have too few "rights," while their husbands are living, and assuredly husbands should not seek to reach out of their graves to control their widows."

☞ A correspndent of the National Intelligencer attributes the unhealthiness of New Orleans to the character of the ground on which it is built. It is alluvial formation, of unknown depth, containing a large quantity of vegetable matter. Here is an extract which is interesting to geologists:

"The situation of the place is so remarkable and peculiar that it cannot escape one's attention. It is on an alluvial plain, of recent geologica formation, and of an unknown area and depth. An attempt made here some time ago revealed the fact that for six hundred feet, at least, the same formation was obtained. Rows upon rows of the stumps of the cypruss have been found growing over each other, exactly superimposed, each of which layers must have taken thousands of years to form. Dr. Bennet Dowler, the able editor of the Medical Journal of New Orleans, informed me that he himself had observed four layers of these cypruss stumps within the limits of the city."

RAILROAD MATRIMONIAL SALUTE.—A popular railroad man got married a few days ago, and in passing a prominent point on the line of the road, on his wedding tour, his fellow employees determined upon giving him and his fair bride a salute. Ten or twelve locomotives were brought up standing on a switch at the depot, and as the train bearing the happy pair passed by, the whistle on each locomotive was made to give a simultaneous blast, the like of which was never heard in the vicinity before. The hideous concert would have awakened the seven sleepers, as it did the echoes for miles around, frightening the urbane bridegroom out of his usual serene equanimity.

STRANGE.—A balloonist gives out that he has made the following discovery:—"I take a bar of brass which when weighed on the earth's surface, actually weighs fifteen pounds. When I ascend to three miles up in the atmosphere and weigh the brass bar, it actually weighs by a spring balance only seven and a half pounds; and again, five miles up, positively only three pounds and a quarter. What is the cause of this? The want of atmospherical pressure on it, and the sun's attraction, which becomes more apparent the nearer we approach his orbit.—American Magazine.

A COINCIDENCE.—A cotemporary calls attention to the fact that W. C. A. Lawrence, Esq., present Speaker of the House of Representatives, with but one exception is the youngest man that has ever filled the Speaker's chair, and that exception was his own father, the Hon. Joseph Lawrence; who was elected Speaker on the 4th of December 1821, and re-elected three times.

In giving notice of his intention to preach, he requested the ladies not to bring their children when they came to hear him. He thought it was enough to have one crying aloud in the wilderness at a time.

☞ What an exceedingly ingenious way, says a letter from the newly discovered country, the ladies of Japan have introduced, in order to keep parents and husbands from knowing what they may write, for men and women write with entirely different letters or characters, and hence cannot read each others letters. The reason of this was, that women could not thus know anything of the business matters of their husbands.

THE LUMBER BUSINESS.—We learn from the Clearfield papers that the lumbermen are "as busy as bees" getting out logs and lumber, to be ready for the spring freshet. The Raftsman, published in Clearfield, says:—

We have been making inquiries in regard to the extent of the business this season, and although it is out of the question to procure accurate information, yet we are satisfied that about the usual quantity of square timber will be made. So far as sawed lumber is concerned, we do not know how it will compare with the products of former years; but one thing we do know is, that a large number of our saw-mills are standing idle. On the other hand, the "loghemen" have given out large contracts on the two Clearfield creeks, Moshannon and Stoneycreek, which will aggregate from 70,000,000 to 80,000,000 feet. The scarcity of snow this winter has however retarded their operations considerably, and it is doubtful whether their contracts will all be filled.

A BALD EAGLE FROZEN TO THE ICE.—The other day, a large Bald Eagle caught a Wild Duck in the river Susquehanna, opposite Duncannon, carried it to a cake of ice which had lodged on a rock, and commenced his feast.—During the operation, it is supposed that being wet, his feet and feathers, from the intense cold, froze fast to the ice; and being unable to extricate himself, perished. He was seen flapping his wings until dark. There was a desire to capture the great "American," but he could not be approached on account of the great mass of floating ice between him and the shore.

ODD FELLOWS' THANKSGIVING.—The United States Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, at the recent session in Baltimore, adopted the proposition, "to set apart the 26th day of April, 1859—the fortieth anniversary of the organization of the Order, to be observed by the entire membership under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of the United States as a day of thanksgiving to Divine Providence for the unexampled prosperity which has attended the Order since its organization on the American continent."

THANKS.—Hon. John Cresswell of the Senate, and J. Burly, of the House, will please accept our thanks for continued favors in the way of public documents, Records, &c.,

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The February number of this standard publication contains a rich treat. The article entitled "Ought Women to learn the Alphabet?" is attributed to the pen of one who is known to favor "Women's Rights." "In a Cellar" is an excellent production and will well repay a perusal. "Bulls and Bears" is a continuation of an article commenced in the January number and is from the pen of one who understands his subject and can portray it in life-like scenes. "The Professor of the Breakfast Table" is another of the companions of the "Autocrat," and the expected personage, intimated in the close of the present article, leads us to imagine that he will be a character of more than common interest. No one should be without this magazine. It is the best monthly now published in this country. Price $3 per annum. We will furnish it to any of our subscribers for $2,00.

REPUBLIC MONTHLY.—The second number of this excellent new periodical, (or rather old periodical under a new name,) is upon our table, freighted with an excellent variety of reading matter, suited to the tastes of all classes of readers. It presents a most brilliant array of contributors who write expressly for this book. Each number contains an original piece of music. Single subscriptions $3. Any person sending four dollars will receive the magazine one year and a splendid steel engraving, richly worth the $4 itself.—Two copies will be furnished for $5. Address Oaksmith & Co., New York.

LADIES' HOME MAGAZINE.—The February number of this valuable little monthly, edited by T. S. Arthur & Virginia F. Townsend, has been received. It contains a beautiful frontispiece entitled "Grandfather's watch," a number of choice and late fashion-plates, and the very best literary selections. None other than good writers could find a place along side of the writings of the editors. Price $2 per annum. T. S. Arthur & Co. Philadelphia.

STARS AND STRIPES.—We have received from Frank Leslie a copy of his new paper, bearing the above title. It is decidedly a neat paper, and will compare favorably with any of the literary weeklies published in the cities, and will, we think, become a favorite wherever it is circulated. Leslie is able to make the Stars and Stripes a good paper and will do it. Price of subscription $2 per annum.

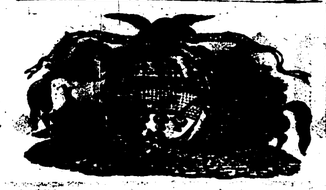
DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT NEWPORT.—We learn from the Harrisburg Telegraph that a fire occurred at Newport, Perry Co., on the 24th inst., which destroyed the large steam distillery of B. F. & S. Miller, and the ware house of Demaree & Sparks. A dwelling house was on fire when the train for Harrisburg passed Newport. A large quantity of grain and liquor was consumed with the distillery.

☞ The Ottowa (Iowa) Courter of late date, says the people of that section have been and are nearer a famine than at any previous time. Flour and wheat are being purchased in the East and shipped to consumers who have hitherto been exporters. The representation of the Courier corroborates the sad picture of life in Iowa given by correspondents.

☞ The book and variety store of Mr. Colon, Postmaster at Huntingdon, was entered a short time since, and about $100 worth of jewelry carried off.

☞ Rev. D. X. Junkin, of Hollidaysburg, has been elected one of the Vice Presidents of the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania.

THE DAUGHTER OF AFFLICTION.—A Memoir of the Protracted Sufferings, and Religious Experience of Miss MARY RANKIN; as communicated by her to her late attending Physician D. R. Good.



We were presented, a few days since, with a copy of the above Memoir, by the author, Dr. Good, of this place. The subject of the Memoir is a lady now residing at Yellow Springs, in this County, who, when eleven years of age, received an injury by running a white thorn in her foot, which resulted in the amputation of her limb and ruination of her health. This occurred in 1836, some twenty-two years since. Other diseases following the injury from the thorn, she has never since been able to help herself in any way, being at one time confined to her bed for the space of twelve years. Coupled with the history of her sufferings is also an account of her religious experience,—an experience which must put to shame that of many professors who have had much more time to devote to such matters, free from all the body racking and brain distracting agonies through which her various sufferings have called her to pass. Many of the accounts of her sufferings appear almost incredible, but they are nevertheless true. To form a correct idea of them, you must read her Memoir, and even then you can not conceive of their extent. We have perused the book and take pleasure in recommending it to our readers. No one should be without a copy of it. It should be read by every man, woman and child in the country. No one can read it without being edified and instructed, and made wise in things which pertain to their spiritual and eternal welfare. It is a book which should be in every Sabbath School in the land—not one copy only, but half-a-dozen copies. Everything narrated therein is true and unvarnished—no imaginary sufferings or ecstacies of bliss—the simple statement of an humble suffering christian woman. We say to one and all, buy a copy of this work, and thereby attain a treasure and contribute to the support of one who is in every way worthy. The proceeds of the sale of the book is to be applied to the support of Miss Rankin, who, in consequence of her protracted sufferings, has been reduced to limited circumstances. Price of the Memoir, 65 cents, to be had of Dr. D. R Good.

LETTER FROM HARRISBURG.

HARRISBURG, January 25, 1859.

GENTLEMEN:—I presume that by this time it is not necessary to inform you of the wiping out of the Canal Board, which was done in the most summary manner on Thursday last. The books, papers and other fixtures of the office are to be transferred to the Auditor General's office, who is hereafter to pass judgment on all claims denominated ancient, and I might add, fishy.

The amount of Legislation done since I last wrote to you, is not very large, and mostly of a local nature, but nothing as affecting your locality.

The Passenger Railway bills are flocking in, and bid fair to multiply as the session advances. Pittsburgh is in the ring now, too. Some want a Passenger Railway on the principal omnibus route, while others are opposed. The petitions in favor are by the business men of the city, while the remonstrances do not look as if they would carry much weight with them.

In looking over the Adjutant General's Report, I find that Blair county throws a bold front in military affairs. Within her "pent up Utica" are eleven companies, being a few more than the wide domain embraced within the large territory composing Lancaster and Chester counties. There are 301 companies in the State, according to the returns, which embrace only 40 counties, and 55,615 men. Blair is ahead, according to her size.

Among the eminently great men who have visited the Capitol for a week past, is Gen. Duff Green, who comes here to get a bill of gigantic proportions passed. It is for the incorporation of a company with extensive ramifications, called the "American Improvement and Loan Company," with a principal office at Philadelphia and branches throughout the world. A memorial from the General was read in the Senate to-day and ordered to be printed in the Record. The whole thing appears very Utopian.

The case of Donavan came up in the Court of Quarter Sessions of this county on Friday last, and the trial resulted in a conviction of assault and battery only, "the intent to kill" not having been established, as it was proved that Donvan, at the time he assaulted Church, was not armed with any weapon to kill.

The Record printing business was disposed of to-day. The resolution rescinding the contract with R. J. Haldeman, passed by the House, was called up in the Senate, where it received a quietus by a vote of 15 to 11. Mr. Berguer put himself to much unnecessary trouble to accomplish so little, since he could not otherwise than foresee this result in the Senate.

The public printing was allotted to-day, by both Houses, in Convention, and of course to A. Boyd Hamilton, who proposed to enter into bonds to execute it for 76½ per cent less than the law allows. Printers who pay their compositors 25 cents per 1000 "ems" for composition, will no doubt be a little astonished when I tell them that Mr. Hamilton takes it at 10 cts. and 10 cents a token for press work! But, I presume there is a way of doing such things which we outsiders can not see into.

In the Senate to-day, Mr. Coffey presented a petition from citizens of Armstrong county, praying for the passage of a prohibitory liquor law. This is the first memorial on the subject presented this winter. What are the temperance men about?

While Blair county is trying to get rid of its dog law, other counties are anxious to have its provisions extended to meet their wants.

Mr. Francis introduced a bill into the Senate to-day, having for its object the prevention of disturbances at public meetings. A very wise bill, and eminently proper, which should pass without a dissenting voice, for who has not been annoyed by the rascally rowdies who take advantage of every public gathering to raise a disturbance.

In the House, little or no business was transacted yesterday, nor any of any consequence since I wrote you. The committee on one of the contested seats reported last week, the report giving the seat to the member occupying the same—Mr. Evans.

The case of Mr. Porter, of Cambria, is having a hearing to-day—the persons and papers having arrived from the State of Cambria on Monday.

There is plenty of business in the hands of the Committees, but none ready for action.

☞ Foote once expressed an opinion, that a certain miser would take the beam out of his own eye, if he knew he could sell the timber.

☞ There is a woman in Albany who claims to be the spirit of the murdered Bill Poole, and says she haunts the earth to avenge his death.

☞ The chess match between Paul Morphy and Professor Andersson at Paris has resulted in the triumph of the American champion. The score at the close stood as follows: Morphy 7; Andersson 2; drawn 2.

☞ A man, whose limbs are entirely destitute of muscles, sinews or flesh, weighs but fifty-five pounds, but is in robust health, hearty, cheerful, intelligent, and plays the fiddle with great vivacity, has been on exhibition in New Orleans.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York News states that there is a rumor that Miss Lane, Mr. Buchanan's neice, is shortly to be married to Mr. Magraw, of Baltimore, brother of the late State Treasurer of Pennsylvania.

☞ Hannah, a free woman of color, formerly a slave in Tennessee, but for many years a resident of Ohio, has returned to Tennessee, preferring to be a slave with her old master, to being free in any of the Free States.

☞ The tastes of men, as exhibited in their habits of pleasure, are true indexes of their passions. Murderers do not wear roses in their button-holes; villains seldom, if ever, train vines over cottage-doors; the beauties of Nature find no sympathizing chord in their breast.

☞ A sailor attended a Methodist meeting in New York, on Friday evening last, having a bottle of whiskey with him. He took a sup and invited an old lady to take a nip with him. The old lady was horrified, and Jack was arrested and fined $25.

☞ John Mitchell, who left Ireland for her good, and who, during his sojourn at the South, has advocated the revival of the African slave trade, threatens to come North and turn Abolitionist unless the South wakes up within a time specified. It is hoped that the South will wake up.

☞ Logan Burdge was arrested and lodged in jail last week at Mifflintown, for robbing Mr. Nipple, of Licking Creek Valley, an account of which was published some time ago Mr. N. identified him as the person who had threatened to "spit fire over his house," unless he would surrender his surplus cash.

☞ A row occurred in a jury room at Pittsburgh, on Friday. They stood eleven against one, on a knotty case, when the one become insolent, and giving the lie to an old man, he was put through in good style. Three broken chairs were found in the jury room, and there were other evidences of a general muss.

☞ The workmen who manufacture grind stones at Berea, Ohio, are found to be subject to fatal lung difficulties, which arise from the inhalation of particles of the stone, which all expedients, even the keeping of a strong current of air before the face of the workmen, have failed to arrest.

☞ Two young men were arrested, on Friday, in Atlanta, Georgia, for robbing an old gentleman of a small sum of money. They were examined, and ordered to jail, but the officers, instead of taking them there, took them out of the city, sheared their hair off, gave them a coat of tar and feathers, and left them go.

☞ Novel Direction.—A letter passed thro' the Post Office yesterday, with the following direction written upon it in a clear, legible hand:

"Go, sweet little missive, I bid you with speed,
Nor stop, to give a strange eye time to read,
Till you get to the office, at Sadsburyville,
Chester county Pa., where you may be still;
But if William T. Hunt, the carpenter should happen in,
You may tell Mr. Curlin to give you to him."
"from Jac."

☞ Put Through.—Chicago as a city has some strange peculiarities. The city authorities fined a medical student a short time ago for looking into a graveyard. Last Thursday, a man and a woman, for a single round of hugging and kissing on a public street, were arrested, and fined—the man $3, and the lady $10. Served 'em right. These little matters should be attended to in private.

☞ The tax of New York for 1850 have just been submitted to the Common Council, and the sum total reaches the astounding aggregate of nearly eight millions of dollars." Of this amount in round numbers, a million is devoted to the police, a million for water, eight hundred thousand for the poor, a million and a half for streets, and six hundred thousand for salaries. The expenditures of the State of New York are much less than those of the city, being only about five million.

☞ Clear as Mud.—An editor had a bottle of London Dock Gin presented to him, and after drinking the whole of it, he wrote a "notice" of the article Here is a specimen of the style:—

"Here's to the ladies and other branches of business (hic) in and around town—and especially the Messident's Pressage, Monington Washtinent, etc., all of which may be had cheap at the Buck—Drook—Drook and Duk Store of Binlinger's old London Dock Gin, for $2 a year, if payment is delayed until the end of the Almanic Table."

A RUSSIAN OPINION.—The Nord, a Russian organ at Brussels, says of the supposed design of the United States to seize Cuba: "The war which might result from it would be a far more disastrous than that Crimean war which has cost so much gold and blood to the world. It would be a war with a nation whose products are the first elements of industry in all parts of the world, and whose commercial intercourse makes an important branch of income for most governments. It would be a violent rupture of all the arteries of commercial circulation; it would be a fatal separation between Europe, which needs America, and America, which can dispense with Europe. Take from England the gold of California and the cotton of Louisiana, and her industry will at once be stopped in its prosperous action. We sincerely hope that such a terrible occurrence will not take place."

CURIOUS RAILROAD INCIDENT.—A few days ago, Mr. John Linwood, of Ohio was a passenger in a train on his return home from the east. He occupied a seat near the door, and after dark dropped into a snooze, from which he was aroused by a passenger in the seat behind him withdrawing his hand from his breast pocket with his pocket-book in it. He attempted to seize the hand, but missed it, and the pick-pocket immediately started for the door. Mr. Linwood caught one of skirts of his coat, just as he emerged from the door. It gave way in his hand, and he then caught the other skirt, which also gave way, and though the train was under full headway, the thief jumped off and escaped with the pocket-book, containing $61. In the pockets of the coat skirt Mr. L. found, however, to compensate him, two costly gold watches, worth $100.

PRIZE FIGHT IN TEXAS.—A prize fight for $1500 a side, came off on the 25th ult., on Point Island, Texas, between an American and a Spaniard. They fought 34 rounds in two hours and ten minutes, when the Spaniard succumbed to the superior prowess of the American. This is a cheering proof of the rapid progress of the Lone Star State in the Fine Arts.

BOLD ROBBERY.—At a late hour on Friday night, the treasury of Coshocton county, Ohio was entered by three men, who gagged and tied the Treasurer, and, robbing the safe of some $18,000, decamped with their plunder. It would seem that these men, knowing the habits of burglary, and that the treasurer's office was kept open till a late hour, had kept themselves secreted in the corridors of the withdrawing room, from about 4 o'clock while the gagged and bound Treasurer and one of the clerks remained in the room. Missing the amount of money in a lot of Wildcat bills, the treasurer turned round to examine the duplicate, and was almost immediately seized, thrown down, tied "hand and foot," and gagged with his own shawl, part of which was thrust into his mouth, thus effectually preventing him from giving the alarm. The robbers then proceeded to plunder the safe. They secured about $18,000, and with this they decamped, leaving the Treasurer prostrate on the floor, and in an entirely helpless condition. After a severe struggle, during which the cords that bound him cut through the flesh almost to the bone, he succeeded in removing the gag, and shouted lustily for help. A Mr. Taylor heard him, and breaking open the door, which the fellows had carefully locked in their retreat, rescued the unfortunate Treasurer from his awkward and unpleasant position. It is believed that the thieves escaped in the one o'clock train, which came in soon after the perpetration of the robbery. The man who addressed the Treasurer is represented as being about forty years of age, with black whiskers, high cheek bones, and a gentlemanly appearance. A reward of $2,000 is offered for the capture of the thieves, and $3,000 for the recovery of the money. The robbery is one of the boldest ever perpetrated in that section of the country, and has caused a great deal of excitement among the citizens of the neighborhood. Should the theives be caught, we would not be a bit surprised to hear of their receiving summary punishment at the hands of the people of the district.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF DEPRAVITY.—We heard of an instance of moral turpitude, a day or two since, which, we hope, stands alone. In the late terrible disaster on the Muscogee Rail Road, in which the cars were precipitated into a swollen torrent with a fearful destruction of human life, one of the passengers had the misfortune to lose his wife and two children. He remarked the next day, in the presence of his fellow passengers, who, with himself were saved from the wreck as if by miracle for none of them could tell how, that in addition to the loss of his family, he had lost all his money, it having been tied up in a belt for security and buckled around his wife's waist. During the day the waters subsided and the passengers, who remained in the neighborhood of the wreck, commenced a search for the dead bodies. The body of the lady alluded to was found about a mile below the wreck, and upon examination it was ascertained that her dress had been torn open and the money belt robbed of its contents, some seven hundred dollars. Fresh tracks were discovered in the mud, leading off from the body, which the searching party traced up, until they came upon one of their own number who had just met with so miraculous an escape from death, and who was present when his fellow passenger told the story of his loss. He was immediately taken in hand, searched, and the entire amount found upon his person. Our informant added the wretch is now in Columbus jail, awaiting his trial for the diabolical act.—Savannah Republican.

☞ The grossest frauds, in connection with the Oregon and Washington War Debt, have been brought to light by the House Committee on Military Affairs, through the efforts of Mr. Faulkner, of Virginia, the Chairman. The whole debt, as reported by the Government agents, is about $6,000,000, of which the Committee assert that not more than about one million is justly due. Some of the charges by which this difference is made are most outrageous. Pistols are charged at $55 each; muskets at $125; oats at $5 a bushel; hay at $120 a ton, and other things in proportion. At the last session of Congress, when the debt was first brought to the notice of the Committee, the War Department recommended its payment, but Mr. Faulkner caused action on the matter to be deterred, in order that it might be fully investigated. By this delay and investigation, the somewhat considerable sum of from four to five millions will be saved to the Treasury.

THE INALIENABLE RIGHT OF THE HUSBAND TO KICK HIS WIFE OUT OF BED.—The Sanfrancisco District Court lately decided that a husband may kick his wife out of bed if he has cause for jealousy, and the wife has no remedy to divorce. This important decision advises wives to be prepared to sprawl, as jealousy may any night get into the heads and heels of the husbands The same court, at an earlier time, decided that "unearthly snoring and grunting on the part of the wife, may render the husband justifiable in seeking a decree of divorce." The next decision expected from this tribunal will determine the question as to whether a man, after kicking his wife out of bed, shall rise and kick her into the street.

LEAVENWORTH, Jan. 25.—The Times publishes a letter giving an account of a conflict between a party of men under Brown, and a posse under the Deputy U. S. Marshal, near Paoli, Lykins county. Five of Brown's party, the Deputy Marshal and two of his assistants are reported killed. The account is not vouched for, and is probably exagerated. The friends of Brown assert that he is not in the territory.

A second attempt, resulting in success, was made to rescue an alleged fugitive, Charley, alias Peter Fisher, last night. The door of the room in which he was confined was cut down, and the rescuing party left the city. The excitement runs high and a party is in pursuit of the negro.

RESTORATION OF AN AMPUTATED FINGER.—Some three or four weeks ago, Mr. G. W. McCully, of Beccarrie township, Clearfield county, cut one of his fingers off with an axe, and after going to the house, he returned to the woodyard, where the accident happened, picked up the part of the finger which had been cut off, and after cleaning off the dirt which adhered to it, replaced it on the finger and bound it on. It is now healing rapidly, the cut off portion having united firmly, it will be almost as useful as if nothing had occurred to it This fact might be worth remembering, by persons who may have the misfortune to meet with a similar accident.

A SINGULAR CASE.—Mr. Norton, Republican, elected to the Illinois Legislature from Will county, is likely to lose his seat, on an exceedingly curious law point. He was born an American citizen, but years ago removed to Canada, swore allegiance to the British crown, and was elected to the Canadian Parliament. Having returned to the United States, it now appears to be necessary that he should renounce his foreign allegiance and be duly naturalized before he can be recognized as a citizen here. This he had not done before his election to the Legislature; and of course, being a British subject, he is not eligible.

☞ All New York is now skating on the lake in the Central Park. It is said 100,000 people have visited it since the 1st of January. The ladies quite astonish "the natives" in their skating propensities, but it puzzles them to put on their skates without a seat as set out on the rug to fetch on the icy coolness.

NEWSPAPER BLANKET SHEETS.—The Brooklyn (N. Y.) Eagle makes some sensible remarks on this subject, which are not altogether applicable to the Sunday papers, most of which are of moderate size. But they do apply forcibly to the ridiculous custom [illegible] adopted by the two enormous dailies of Boston, which [illegible] and one of them [illegible] sheets to the [illegible] newspapers, Sunday and weekly, have been enlarged—the proprietors shrewdly advancing the price thirty odd per cent., to pay for an extension of fifteen per cent. and [illegible] have started of gigantic dimensions. One of these is as big as a barn door, and literally so flat. Life is brief, and time is money, and people can't afford to take week to read such a monster sheets—when they have to stand on a chair to open them, and take two persons to fold them up. A sensible business people, like ourselves, care more for what is in a paper than for the size of it; and as they read newspapers as a matter of business, the paper that conveys the news of the day and general intelligence in the most convenient form, is sure to have the preference.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The holding of a National Sunday School Teachers' Convention in Philadelphia, having been recommended by the New York Sunday School Teachers' Convention, held in Brooklyn, on the 5th of October, 1858, and the friends of Sunday Schools in Philadelphia approving of this proposition, an invitation has been extended to the Sabbath School Teachers of the United States, and others friendly to the cause, to meet in Convention, in that city, on the 22d of February, 1859, to consider such matters in connection with the School cause as may be brought before them by a committee appointed for such purpose. Each "Evangelical" Sabbath School in the Union is invited to send at least one delegate, and clergymen are also invited to share in the deliberations and exercises of the Convention.

☞ The Indiana people have not only revoked their disgraceful laws granting divorces with scarcely a show of even formality, but are inclined to go farther and undo what has been done. The following undivorce case, which we find noted in the Indianapolis Citizen of Friday, presents some knots for law students to bother their heads at untieing. The Indiana court told Mr. M'Twigg he could shuffle off the then Mrs. M'Twigg, and marry again, and he married again. Now the same court tells the then Mrs. M'Twigg that it told Mr. M'Twigg wrongly, and that she is the only genuine Mrs. M'Twigg living, and has a right to oust the so-called Mrs. M'Twigg from the possession of the said M'Twigg. It is a case quite laughable to an outsider, but particularly serious to M'Twigg and the second Mrs. M'Twigg.

☞ Married in Michigan, Mr. Henry Bills to Miss Mary Small. We hope the issuing of Small Bills is not prohibited in that State.

Michigan statutes, page 1001:

"Persons may issue bills of any size or denomination immediately after organising by depositing securities, &c.

Though in the above case we should not think it advisable to issue until at least nine months after organizing.—Argus & Democrat.

THE PAY OF CONGRESSMEN.—The present session gives to members a thousand dollars a month, besides mileage and perquisites. Deducting the Sundays and holidays, the present "short session will allow about 60 working days; for, by constitutional requirement, it must close on the third of March next, which will give to each member nearly fifty dollars per day for every day employed, exclusive of mileage."

☞ The suez canal, it is said, will be commenced next year. The writer of this heard a shrewed American observe: "If the French and Russians begin to make that canal, I guess England and the United States must take their shovels and go and fill it up as fast as they dig it out."

The Restorative of Prof. O. J. Wood for Restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival, volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent or private sources to the perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

☞ The Hair.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads and the only remedy heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request, that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest remedy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit, that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Phila.

Coshocton, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1858.

O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local Agents (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced its beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some State in the West, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the [illegible] business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restored the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being fully convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell. Yours truly,

S. T. STOCKMAN.

Wayland, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly three bottles.

Yours &c. JAMES FRANCIS.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Sunday—A Valuable Hour.—We find the following quoted as "[illegible]" in the Pittsburgh [illegible] in place in this column, follow suit with our contemporaries:—"The remark has been made more than once since the great world [illegible] thing, that time is precious. It waits for no man. On singing maidens and fighting-men—on flower-gardens and battle-fields—on joy and sorrow, hope and despair, love and hatred, the night falls, and the sun rises, with unsparing regularity. The minutes are very precious, every one of them. We cannot afford to let them drift unheeded by. The current widens and quickens for eternity's ocean, and we are afloat. There is work to do, and no more than enough time to do it in.

Let sin and shame and sorrow be upon every one of us who wastes this heavenly treasure. If any mortal be willing to incur the fearful responsibility of sloth, his be the settling of the account! But a weightier and graver charge is against him who squanders the time of others. He is more than a spendthrift. He is a thief. Earthly law cannot reach him. He is often genteel and respectable. He wears fine clothes and uses choice language. The fragrant atmosphere of a good reputation surrounds him. His lips distill honey and breath melody. He drops gently in when the muscles are all strained and the brow burning with the heat and toil of the day. He is delighted to see you. Was passing by and thought he would just see how you were coming along. Has nothing new or important—have you? Thinks a great deal about the weather, and says all he thinks. How busy you are! Don't stop!

And then an irregular fire of reminiscences, reflections, speculations, prophecies, and hearsays—all very sapient and surprising, no doubt—until the brain reels, and the nerves quiver, and patience oozes out in great angry drops of perspiration, and common courtesy becomes a heroism, and from the troubled soul goes up a sigh for a lodge in some vast wilderness, or inaccessible attic, with only one door, and that one bolted on the inside!

We shut up in grated cells those who rob us of our money or goods. We knock down those who rob us of our reputation or forever "cut" and shun them. But we can do nothing with those who steal our time. We are at their mercy. Will they not pause on our threshold, and consider well before they turn our door-latch!

Attend to Coughs and Colds.—There is a significance in the above advice which, if attended to in time, would save hundreds of persons from untimely graves. Do we not know that many persons neglect to attend to coughs and such like maladies under the hope, that nature will cure? Nature sometimes does cure; but she will cure much more rapidly if assisted by some such remedy as Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, which is compounded for those very diseases of the lungs and bronchical apparatus, so prevalent in every part of the United States. We advise our readers, therefore, who may be afflicted with coughs, bronchical irritation or any disease of the lungs or wind pipe, to have recourse at once to this remedy, which Dr. Keyser has prepared with great care for the cure of those cases. Timely attention will save much suffering and oftentimes the life of the person using it. Sold at fifty cents and one dollar per bottle, by Dr. Keyser, No. 140 Wood street, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona.

Penn'a Rail Road.—The following table exhibits the earnings and expenses of the Penn'a Rail road for the year 1858, as compared with those of the year 1857. By adding the decrease in expenses for the increase in nett and gross earnings, it will be seen that over half a million more has been realized from the Road this year than last year. This speaks volumes in favor of those who have managed the workings of this great Road during the past year. No other Road in the country can present the same show of figures and economy:—

	Gross Earnings.	Expenses.	Nett Earnings
1858	$4,185,330 68	$3,021,885 04	$2,163,445 64
1857	5,097,542 59	3,226,358 24	1,871,189 35
Increase	67,787 09		292,256, 29

Duff's Mercantile College, Corner Third and Market Streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.—This institution has enjoyed a distinguished reputation for near twenty years. Its students are to be found in almost every State in the Union, noted for their proficiency as accountants and men of business. The Principal is well known as a Practical Merchant, thoroughly versed in all the details of accounts and business.—With this practical knowledge, and skill, he avails himself of every new material that will add to the value of his training for business. It is therefore readily seen how he maintains his high reputation, and why his students are so widely preferred among business men.—Pittsburgh Commercial Journal.

Changed Hands.—The Central Bank of Pennsylvania, located at Hollidaysburg, Pa., has changed hands. The stock of the bank has been disposed of by the former owners to persons residing in Centre and Clinton counties.—The following persons compose the officers and directors of the institution: President, Thomas Wilson, Centre county, Pa., Cashier, C. C. Price, Centre county, Pa.; Teller, Daniel Irwin, Centre county, Pa.; Directors, Samuel Downing, Joseph Iddings, J. P. Barnhart, John Jones, Benjamin Ligget, John S. Bush, John Hoy, George Alexander, William Fearon, John Hoy, Jr., John Alexander, and William Underwood.

Tract Agent.—Jonathan Focht, Colporteur of the American Tract Society, will visit this place and vicinity, with the publications of the Society, in a week or two. The tracts and books issued by this Society can not be surpassed by those of any other publication society in the country for beauty, strength and cheapness. We bespeak for him a kind reception from all our readers, as it is a worthy cause in which he is engaged, and deserves the encouragement of all who feel an interest in the spreading of books and tracts of a religious character.

The Concert.—All the necessary arrangements for the concert for the benefit of the poor, to be given this evening, in Keystone Hall, have been made. The stage for the musicians and comfortable seats for the audience have been fitted up and all things will be ready at the appointed hour. The music will consist of the Altoona Brass Band, Van Trias' Cornet Band, of Hollidaysburg, which has kindly consented to be in attendance, Altoona String Band, two of the best violinists in the country, Messrs. Eller and Walker, and a number of violinists who will sing sentimental and comic songs. It will be one of the grandest entertainments ever given in the country, and those who fail to attend will miss one of the richest treats ever offered to the citizens of Altoona, or that may ever be offered to them again. All the musicians in the county, it appears, have joined together for a noble and praise-worthy object, and it would be a lasting shame should the Hall not be filled to overflowing with one of the very best audiences that ever graced a public entertainment. And remember, too, kind reader, that you are not contributing to the enriching of those who are to entertain you, but to the alleviation of the wants of your unfortunate neighbors. Go then and buy a ticket to the concert, and if you cannot secure a ticket, a quarter at the door will answer the same purpose.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.—The Cincinnati Commercial, in alluding to the charges of bad faith on the part of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, towards the other through lines, gives a satisfactory reason for the success of the great Pennsylvania route, in the following sensible language:—

"The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, with its wisely arranged connections, is doing the best part of the freight and passengor business of the country. The Pennsylvania Central is to-day the most powerful railway organization in America. Its directing head has employed the vast capital entrusted to his charge, not for the purpose of fructifying the bonds and stocks of some one road in which he had a personal interest, but has so directed the capital as to secure a great net-work of valuable connections, so that his termini are, virtually, Cleveland, Chicago and Cincinnati. Over the Pennsylvania Central, via Columbus, Stubenville and Allentown, lies the all-rail route to New York direct, quicker and every way shorter than any other line that will ever connect the cities of the West with New York. In this growing power of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company—fairly earned as it has been—is to be found the real cause of jealousies and these reiterated charges that her swelling traffic is the result of chicanery or fraud. Let us have no more of them.

Temperance Lecture.—On Sabbath last, Rev. Cross, of Philadelphia, lectured in the different churches in this place, day and evening, on the subject of temperance. We believe the temperance movement one of great importance and calculated to do good, but it will require more animated addresses than the one to which we listined to awake the people to the importance of the subject. The revival of the old Washingtonian Society and the spread of the Order of Sons of Temperance, encourages the nope that many may be saved from the evil effects of intemperance; but so much has already been said on the subject of temperance, by public speakers and ministers, that unless the lecturer or the lecture be something more than ordinary, it looses its effect upon the masses.

Mr. Vernon Ball.—We acknowledge the receipt of a free ticket to the above Ball, to come off in Huntingdon, on the evening of the 22d of February next. Judging from the names which appear upon the ticket as Managers, we think it will be a grand affair. Other engagements will prevent us from accepting the invitation, even though we should desire to; nevertheless, we hope those who attend may have a good time of it.

A Row.—A row occurred on the corner of the street opposite our office, one night last week, in which F. Nothwang, keeper of the saloon under the Masonic Temple, received a slight stab in the abdomen from a knife in the hands of a shoemaker named John McClosky. We do not know exactly how the quarrel originated. It is said that both parties were under the influence of stimulants. From all accounts, McClosky received the worst of the battle, even though he did use a knife. Nothwang's injury was not serious, as he is now going about again.

Appointed.—Our young friend, D. T. Caldwell, has been appointed agent for the Blair County Protection Mutual Fire Insurance Company, for this place. This is a good appointment; and those who have dealings with that Company will find the new agent clever and accommodating. His office will be at the Banking House of Bell, Johnston, Jack & Co.

CLOAKS, CAPES AND SHAWLS, which he is selling off CHEAP, being determined to dispose of them while the snow is screeching.

THE HALL OF FASHION is still open, and the Proprietor, in returning thanks to his numerous customers for their liberal patronage bestowed on him since his commencement, here desires to say (without fear of contradiction) that he is prepared to offer for their inspection the best assortment of handsome Dress Goods, Shawls, Cloaks, White Goods, &c., &c., that can be found in Altoona.

Respectfully, &c., C. J. MANN.

The Panic—More Failures.—The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to be encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street, above Sixth. Gentlemen and Youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

In all diseases inflammation more or less predominates—now to allay inflammation strikes at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Piles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its apposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR

DYSPEPSIA,

DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND

FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered

STOMACH OR LIVER.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those worn-out whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR

PREPARED BY DR. ASHFORD,

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,

is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder and more effectual than any other medicine known. It first will do well to give us a call and examine our stock and prices, and we hope to be able to convince them that the will do, and no more than enough time to do it in. Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependant on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence of one organ—the Liver—having ceased to do its duty. For the diseases of that organ, one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable.

To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with Liver Complaint, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying their place a healthy bow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, and thereby removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are CURED, AND, WHAT IS BETTER, PREVENTED, by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring. Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia. ☞ One dose of two tablespoonsful will always relieve Sick Headache.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure. Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera or Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

☞ Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness. ☞ One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Sumach will yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures Dysentery in children: there is no remedy in the world, as it never fails. A few bottles cures Dropsy. We take pleasure in recommending the medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT. For Inflammatory Diseases only.
NEW MEDICAL SALT! NEW MEDICAL SALT!
DO NOT ACCUSE ALL.
For Inflammatory Disease Only!

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT, instead of being a remedy for all ills, has control over but one ill, has but one aim, and accomplishes but one thing, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE, whatever be its form or locality, whether in the head, throat, abdomen, extremities or skin.

The specific excellence of the NEW MEDICAL SALT is, that without the useless loss of blood and strength, it effectually cures INFLAMMATORY DISEASE (no other) by producing an equilibrium of all the fluids in the body, the want of which is the sole cause of inflammation.

INVALIDS, TAKE NOTICE!! The following forms which the unbalanced fluids assume, and many not here mentioned, that have more or less fever, are as easily subdued by the NEW MEDICAL SALT, as fire is extinguished by water, to wit: Brain Fever, Headache, Rush of Blood to the Head and Heart, Pits, Inflamed Eyes, Ears and Nose, Canker, Neuralgia, Spinal Affections, Erysipelas, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Asthma, Inflamed Lungs and Liver, Heartburn, Coughs, Dyspepsia, Venereal Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all itching and other cutaneous eruptions.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT exerts, like the vaccine matter, an extraordinary influence on the veins and arteries, resulting in a gradual decline of inflammation as indicated by the pulse, which soon resumes its natural state, as the heat, pain and fever disappear.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT does just what it claims to do—no more, no less—equalizes the fluids, by removing from the system all arterial and venous obstructions. Description circulars may be obtained from any Druggist who has this valuable medicine for sale.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION, PHILADELPHIA.
A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, affected with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.
The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual Diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a charitable act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give medical advice gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, habits of dissipation, habits of life, &c., and in cases of extreme poverty and suffering, to furnish medicine free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.
The directors of the Association, in their Annual Report upon the treatment of Sexual Diseases, express the highest satisfaction with the success which has attended the labors of the Consulting Surgeon in the cure of Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism or Self-abuse, &c., and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.
The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important and much despised cause.
An admirable Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation, or Self-abuse, and other abuses of the sexual system, by the Consulting Surgeon, will be sent by mail (in a sealed envelope), FREE OF CHARGE, on receipt of TWO STAMPS for postage. Other Reports and Tracts on the nature and treatment of sexual diseases, &c., are constantly being published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent to the afflicted. Some of the new remedies and methods of treatment discovered during the last year, are of great value.
Address, for Report or Treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALHOUN, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 S. Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors.

GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE
IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES, the great Substitute for Tobacco.
It is a well known and incontrovertible fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe
MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS
to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood deranges the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.
TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will bear testimony—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.
THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES
Are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.
Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.
These Troches of Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.
Prepared solely by the undersigned to whom all orders should be addressed.
JAMES E. BOWERS, Druggist.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT!—McCORMICK'S NEW GOODS HAVE ARRIVED AND ARE NOW BEING OPENED FOR INSPECTION AND SALE.
"Halloo, neighbor, I'm here on the ground again. Perhaps you recollect when I, last year, asked you to hold my horse a moment and tell me where the CHEAP STORE was. But it is different now. It reminds me a little of the campaign of 1840, when Gen. Harrison was elected President. You have only to go with the crowd and you will have no difficulty in finding McCORMICK'S STORE. From the excitement down the valley, and the quantity of goods I see carried away, they must be selling off very rapidly and very cheap."
"You are right, my friend; I would say to you, sir, go ahead, and your anticipations will be fully realized. He has a very large and well selected assortment of Goods. He'll sell you a dress for fifty cents and give the trimmings into the bargain, I'm told, and all other goods in proportion."
